"Sometimes the little times you don't think are anything while they're happening turn out to be what marks a whole period of your life."

-Andy Warhol

Sure we all know that “time flies”, but how many of us actually take these two words to heart? Not many. It seems so simple to grasp, yet we continue to live our lives without any sort of realization that we will never get these years back. Andy Warhol described this scene so perfectly when he said: "Sometimes the little times you don't think are anything while they're happening turn out to be what marks a whole period of your life." This statement exemplifies the high school experience. We show up bright and early every day at 7:28 a.m., for four years straight. We count down the days to graduation and anticipate going off to college and leaving our small town. When we finally graduate and have to part ways with our closest friends, these four years of incredible memories flood our minds. We think of all the good times, the bad times, the friends we’ve made, the friends we’ve lost, and how we’ve come about finding ourselves. For the first time, we actually see the impact that high school has had on our lives. Although this quote isn’t meant to bring about a sad recollection of the times we’ve had, it’s meant to remind each and every one of us to make the most of our lives, and make sure we are living our lives to the fullest every moment we can.

"The mystery was gone but the amazement was just starting."

-Andy Warhol

Each of us walked into this school four years ago with a halo and a pocketful of sunshine, but as that graduation date creeps closer, we've been thinking "so what?" Although we've been through hot 'n' cold and, at times, have gotten a little dangerous, we don't get damaged; we've learned that all you can do when times get tough is shake it off and just dance. We don't care if you stop and stare, just please don't stop the music. We're seniors, and I gotta feeling we're going to remember this party in the USA forever.

"It does not matter how slowly you go so long as you do not stop."

-Andy Warhol

This year, each student brings a little more pretty boy swag to the hallways of Saint Clair High School. Every boy wants to party like a rockstar and every girl wants to pop lock and drop it. They don't just walk to class anymore; they walk it out. They're getting in all sorts of trouble day 'n' nite, but always find a way to blame it on someone (or something) else. The girls walk around with that empire state of mind, but the boys don't care because they can make those good girls go bad. This year the students are bringing sexyback. They don't just run this school, they run this town.

Interview:
Emily Duncan

Q: How has junior year been difficult for you?
A: "I think that junior year has a "bad rep", but really it's not that bad other than the fact that I get a lot more homework."
Q: What challenges have you faced because of your unique situation?
A: "The unique situation I've faced has caused a shortage of money, a lot of stress, and trying to grow up in a matter of a few months, all while still being a kid."
Q: What do you plan on doing after you get out of high school?
A: "I am excited to get out of high school. I want to jumpstart my career by getting a job to generate money to help support my family."

Pop Quiz:
Priscilla Gayagoy Cates

It's Priscilla's third year at the high school, but does she truly know everything about SCHS? When given a pop quiz, these were her answers:

Q: What's the address of the school?
A: "2340 Clinton Avenue"
Q: How many juniors are in your graduating class?
A: "101 students"
Q: How many total clubs or organizations are in the school?
A: "3 organizations"

Actual Answers:

1. 2200 Clinton Avenue
2. 232 students
3. Over 15 organizations

Better luck next time, Priscilla!

twitter > facebook? or facebook > twitter?

Although Twitter is trending quickly, only 20% of the students surveyed from the Class of 2014 claim that the rest of their peers are missing out...#sophomoreproblems.

Facebook still holds the interest of 80% of St. Clair High School's sophomores, proving that they would rather "like" than "retweet".

Q: What's one of your best or worst experiences in high school so far?
Jacob: "I haven't really had any bad experiences so far. High school is much easier than I thought it'd be, which is a bonus. The pep rallies really make good experiences."
Jasmine: "I haven't had any bad or really good experiences, but I get embarrassed because I randomly fall in the hallways from time to time."
Q: What's the weirdest advice you've been given on high school?
Jacob: "Somebody once told me not to eat the bacon in the cafeteria..."
Jasmine: "I've never been given any advice for high school; I'm on my own."
Q: What advice can you give to incoming sophomores?
Jacob: "Study a lot, because there are way more tests than there were during freshman year."
Jasmine: "Make sure you focus on your homework and pay attention to what teachers are saying."

Pop Quiz:
Peter Gross

Q: What was your worst experience with an upper classmen?
A: "It is mostly every time I walk in the senior hallway to get to my classes, I always feel intimidated...like I'm in their 'territory'."
Q: What was the hardest adaption from middle school to high school for you?
A: "For me the biggest change was band. In high school band, what you learn in a week is more than what we learned all three years of middle school."
Q: What tips were best for you when coming to high school?
A: "One that worked best for me was to be myself. I do what I like to do and I just go with the flow."

Interview:
Olivia Packan and Keely Meyers

Q: How do you feel about swim class?

Olivia: "I really don't like it. It's hard and almost drowning is not my favorite thing to do."

Keely: "I couldn't wait for swim class to be over. It was not my favorite class by any means..."

Q: What was your favorite part of the class?

Olivia: "Leaving, for sure."

Keely: "I agree with Olivia, but the free days weren't too bad."
